The program's purpose is to provide spouses with an opportunity to discuss their profession with another person in their career field. Our goal is to arrange an introduction for a one-time meeting between you and a local professional person. The meeting may provide you with an opportunity to learn how your profession is practiced in the U.S. and the Bay Area. It may also provide some familiarity with local professional organizations in your professional field or, dependent on security requirements, provide the possibility of a visit to the local professional's workplace.

Applicants must have a reasonable proficiency in English, be unable to work in the US due to visa status, and have no existing local contacts in his/her professional field. Our community contacts are volunteers who donate time to share their professional experience with international visitors. Please allow some time for this introduction to be arranged.

The PLP English Discussion Group provides another option to interact with other international spouses to learn how their profession is practiced both in their country and in this country and/or to discuss and explore other career alternatives. The Group meeting is held each Friday from 9:30 to 11:30am in the Back Lounge of the Bechtel International Center during the regular Stanford academic year. Spouses with children are invited to participate in this class.
